

TALKING WITH
NESSCIA TOMMASSINI
THE NEW MISS SIMS2CRI

Nescia Tommasini, Miss Sims2Cri 2008...here we are, finally. Usually our interviews start with the same questions, but we're making an exception with you. In fact, you've never tried to hide your family relationship with our models..someone may call it favoritism. What do you think about that?

Well, I kinda imagined that...people can think whatever they want! I hate to give and take, and I do what I do only thanks to myself! grabs an envelope from her bag and gives it to the interviewer whispering "All the money's here, as decided"

Your cousin Giorgio is a celebrity for Sims2Cri, even if sometimes his personality leads him to attempt weird challenges (ie. when he decided to take part in "I'm a Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here!"). To be honest, we still haven't realized if he's happy for your success or if he's afraid you're going to steal his show..What can you say about that from your "familiar" point of view? Giorgio..what can I say?! I think he's happy for my success..he's always had a weakness for me..never had a weakness for him though..Giorgio has always been a childish guy, extremely insecure and spineless...then he came up with the "I'm a Celebrity.." thing...he just dishonored the whole family. If I could I surely would have left him there!

The previous question was a bit tricky, we hoped to discover if your personalities are similar and if we have to worry about potential manias of grandeur...

Grandeur? Me?! Oh come on! screams at the cameraman to frame her only and only on the left side

Recently another relative of yours has joined our models, even if she's only appeared on the cover of our magazine...actually, we're a bit lost in this consanguinity maze..what's your relationship with Vanessa?

Vanessa is Giorgio's cousin, from his mother side. I don't think we can call it consanguinity between us..I've seen her only a couple of times. Unlike Giorgio, I like her: she seems to be a good girl..

Did you expect them to pull strings for you or did you think this would have penalized you?

Uhm...penalized I guess. I'd dare anyone to have a relationship with one of Giorgio's relatives! Thank God I taken everything from the good part of the family tree.

(Daniela walks by: "Say it! Say you've seized our cellphones and locked us in the conference room during the contest, stopping models from searching for us, so that we haven't found it out until the end of the contest, when we saw all those 'Vote for Nescia' banners and Giorgio running away screaming "It wasn't meeee" while Ilaria was chasing him with a sponge in her hand)

Back to topic...tell us about you and your career: who is Nescia, where she comes from and where she wants to get?

Nescia was born to be a supermodel, to daze the audience with her beauty and I'm sure she will get ahead..

Just out of curiosity, why is your name so peculiar?

Ahah...I was wondering why nobody hadn't asked me about that yet..it's due to an old event. I was in the Neonatal Ward at the hospital. My dad got near the glass and asked the nurse to show him his daughter. The nurse, who was very goofy and dumb, looked in every crib and then grabbed me in a very ungraceful way saying "So this nescia baby is yours!". In the Genoese slang, "nescia" means flat, vapid..she was so stupid that mixed up my superiority attitude with flatness! It became my name then...

What did you dream to be when you were a child? And what about now?

When I was a child I dreamed to become the Pope..then when I grew up I realized that dreams are for weaks..

I've had a good career as a horsewoman, but given to a bad accident I had to give up. Just think that the World Championships were just one hurdle away..then that stupid horse decided to stumble on his same legs, and all in a sudden I saw the prize and my knee fly away. The horse actually lost more: he was put to sleep.

I can see a booklet heading out of your bag..have you taken some of your pictures with you?

I did but they're not that special..I've been in this business for a short time. I only have a few shoots discarded from the contest portfolio. The photographer spent the whole day shooting, and I can say it wasn't such an effort!

Career, love, friendship, health...what do you value the most?

Surely health and career come first. Love does not exist, friendship neither..when you're so lucky to be as beautiful as I am, women are jealous and men always have hidden goals..

Do you believe in supernatural? Have you ever seen a witch, a ghost..an alien?

No, that's for weaks too.

What was the atmosphere like during the contest? Was there high rivalry among the contestants? Tell us something funny that happened there..

Rivalry is an euphemism! I was on my own, I haven't socialized with the others actually. Pretending to be friends when you're ready to do anything to win is just useless. Funny events..well, there was a contestant called Gioconda I think, that kept stumbling. Everyone thought she was getting drunk to face the cold climate (you know, catwalking half naked in October is not easy!)..then we realized alcohol was not the cause, and that she was simply dumb. Other facts? Oh well, it was the last day and I was there gazing at my brand new band and this crazy girl broke in and screaming I stole her identity and she was the real winner and I had to give her my crown..thank God EISSC surveillance has done its job. I hope she's in some mental hospital..she needs some help!

You went to the ball with Paolo Tommasi, Mr. ShopSims 2008. Why did you choose him? Looking at your face you didn't seem so happy..

Yes, it was a mistake. I thought he could jeopardize my success but luckily he didn't. It was him to call me because nobody had chosen him...I kinda pitied him, poor thing...He even assured he was a great dancer..Imagine my surprise when he started tossing me around and flirting with me..well, I made him walk the line!

Many users expected a dark-ish Sim as Miss Sims2Cri. What do you think about that? Do you feel "dark"?

I'm sorry to disappoint you, but I really don't think so. On the inside at least..on the outside I can be whatever you want me to be!

As you may have noticed from the previous editions, models often have to drastically change their look to fit the site look. Recently we've been cooperating with divas' hairstylist Jean LoiSims David.

Are you ready to change your style?

As I've said before, I'm ready to change my look. I'd do everything for my career...

You probably know we have a taste for dark-haired guys...

(Daniela walks by "Say it! Say you hate red hair and red-haired girls!!!")

Ehm, don't mind Daniela, it's only our hairstylist the one who choose..

Well, I am dark-haired actually. shows her eyebrows

I love to dye my hair. I tried every nuance. Red suits me, but I was just thinking to shift to platinum blonde. Objections?

What can we say..the interview is finished, then we thank Nescia for giving us a bit of her precious time and we hope to meet again soon, maybe on stage! Good luck with your career!

Thank you, I won't let you down!

We can't get out of asking for advice to Jean LoiSims David about the look of our new miss, before starting her first official photosession!
